The A. H. S. Newscast

Well gang, did everyone have a nice Thanksgiving? I know you did, and I also know everyone enjoyed that turkey. Hope you didn't eat so much that you got sick.

There was a Thanksgiving Canteen party Friday night, sponsored by the S. C. A. The decorations were lovely and everyone had an enjoyable time. There were quite a few students who didn't come to the party and they don't know what they missed.

A large per cent of our graduates were here to spend the holidays with us. It was so good to see: Charlie Harvey, Byron Babcock, Dick Marks, Lois Wood, Faye Wood, June Holt, Betty Wingfield and J. C. Lewis. It's always such a pleasure to have these people back with us and we hope they continue coming back.

It's quite difficult to get settled down to school again after four whole days of fre dom. But just think, it's less than four weeks 'til Christmas! It's time to start thinking about Christmas gifts and parties.

Speaking of parties, I hear that there's going to be a big dance during Christmas holidays. The F. H. A. is sponsoring it and the Vagabonds will furnish the music. I'm passing this tip on so that you girls can start thinking about new dresses and the fellows can make a date with their special girl for that night. Keep the affair in mind and I'll let you know more about it next week.

I hope everyone brought his camera to school to take pictures for the annual. We have such a difficult time getting snapshots, so if you will help us collect them you will be of great service. After all, the annual is yours and you can help make it a success if you will cooperate with the staff.

Our football season for 1951 came to a glorious end Wednesday night with a 34-19 victory over Farmville High School. The team played a brilliant game and we are proud of the boys. A. H. S. had a most successful season, having lost only one game. Not only does the credit go to the team, but it goes to our coach, Mr. Bragg. Without his leadership and guidance, the team could never have succeeded. Through his coaching and through his understanding nature he has won a place in the hearts of all the players, all A. H. S. students and of the town people.

The football game on Wednesday night was the last one that many of our boys will play for our school. The players who will leave us this year are: Bill Jamerson, Kendall Hunter, Jesse Rosser, Ed Cawthorne, Billy Johnston, Dan Carson, Bobby Chernault and Billy Perdue.

Since we have been at school only a few days this week there isn't much news. I'll call a halt now, but I'll see you again next week.

Cattle Need Mineral Diet; Formula Cited

Mr. C. H. Robinson, Editor
The Times-Virginian,
Appomattox, Va.
Dear Sir:

I am enclosing a letter I received from Mr. George W. Litton, Associate Extension Animal Husbandman, V. P. I., Blacksburg, Virginia. I heard Mr. Litton speak at Mr. Hubert Thomson's picnic last fall and was so impressed with what he had to say on minerals for cattle feed that I asked him to give me the ingredients and amounts of essential minerals for cattle feeding.

I think this information will be of interest to cattle growers who read your paper. I might farther say I will secure the bone meal and iodized salt through Mr. Frank Dresser of Appomattox. I have gotten the limestone from the local Lime Grinding Plant, and the copper sulphate (bluestone) can be purchased at our local Drug Store. Mr. Dresser will mix these ingredients for me. I hope you will find space in the next issue of your paper to publish my letter and the enclosed letter from Mr. Litton.

I was particularly interested in the mixture suggested by Mr. Litton because he stated at he Thomson picnic, V. P. I. had ascertained that many of the ingredients in commercially mixed mineral feeds were not essential, making the cost of the mixture considerably higher than that suggested by him. Mr. Litton also stated the mineral mixture should not be mixed with feed for cattle but should be given them just as salt is, and that in addition salt should be supplied separately and not mixed with the mineral mixture. He also advised that cattle do not get enough salt or mineral mixtures from blocks.

Sincerely yours,
Joel W. Flood.

Dear Judge Flood:

The ingredients and amounts of essential minerals for cattle feeding are: 100 lbs salt (iodized); 300 lbs. bone meal; 100 lbs. ground limestone; 1 2-3 lbs. copper sulphate; 1 2-3 ounces cobalt chloride, sulphate or carbonate.

The mixing should be no trouble until you get to the cobalt. The best way to do is to mix everything down to that point, spread it out on a canvas covered floor, and spray on the cobalt which has been dissolved in water.

I should think your fertilizer dealer could supply you with the bone meal; your local limestone grinder, the ground limestone; the drug store could supply the blue stone; and a firm such as McKesson-Robbins of Roanoke could supply the cobalt.

Your very truly,
George W. Litton,
Associate Extension Animal Husbandman.

Legion Ask Toys to Give At Christmas

The local post of the American Legion invites the public to join in with them in playing Santa Claus this year. They seek a collection of used toys to distribute Christmas week-end to children who might not otherwise have toys for Christmas.

A large box is being placed in the Robinson Furniture Store on Main Street. Everyone is urged to go over their toy collection and find toys to give to this pro ect. It is all right to type your name on the toy so the child receiving it will know whose gift it was. However, this is not necessary.

A deadline of December 17 has been set for the toys to be turned in. Then members of the American Legion will meet at night to make any nedded repairs to the toys and see that they are in shape for presentation. A list of names is being prepared for placement of the toys on Christmas Eve.

News For Veterans

Current job outlooks in the fields of accounting, pharmacy, electrical appliences, printing and publishing, and forge shops are described by Veterans Administration in a new supplement to the Occupational Outlook Handbook used by V-A in guiding veterans toward correct training goals.

The report showed a widespread demand for cost accountants, continued good employment opportunities for registered pharmacists, favorable prospects in printing and in publishing, relatively unfavorable prospects in the electrical appliance field and a good outlook in forge shops during the next one or two years.

The studies were prepared for Veterans Administration by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Labor Department.

The owl was retrieved and brought by the Times-Virginian office. It measured 42 inches from wing tip to wing tip. The weight was approximately three pounds. Hereafter "wise old owls" will keep under cover while the mail is being delivered on Route 2.

Football Team To Be Honored At Banquet

The Appomattox High School's 1951 football team will be entertained at a banquet next Thursday night, December 13, by the Appomattox Lions Club, Coach Gordon Bragg and some thirty members of the squad will be guests. The banquet will be served by the Appomattox Parent - Teacher Association, and it is understood that it will be a turkey dinner.

The affair will be held in the school cafeteria room. A full attendance of Lions Club members is expected. The committee arranging the program is composed of: W. C. Dudley, R. A. Sears, John Caldwell and Calvin Robinson.

The football banquet is an annual event on the Lions Club calendar.

Basketball Schedule To Open

Appomattox High School will open its basketball season on Monday night when both boys and girls teams will play the Pamplin High School teams at Charlotte Court House.

The Blue Hornet teams have been practicing on their "outdoor gymnasium" for the past two weeks, trying to get ready for the basketball season. Coach Bragg is especially hopeful that the local boys will improve their record of last year. If the weather permits outdoor practice—an uncertain item this time of the year—the Blue Hornets should do well in the first part of the schedule. All Appomattox home games will be played at the Concord gym again this year, since there is no gym in Appomattox County.

The boys squad this year will be made up of veterans from last year, including: Earl Agee, Henry Doss, Jerry George, Jr., J. T. Guill, Otto-way Guill, J. P. Harvey, Bill Jamerson, Billy Johnston, Leon Paulette, Calvin Tanner, Carlton Thomas and Ray Wingfield.

The girls team will be minus Barbara Johnson, high scoring forward of last year, and Helen Mae Poe and Barbara Carter, two outstanding guards. This year's squad consists of: Ann Goad, Betty Burks, Sylvia Burks, Nina Barlow, Virginia Chandler, Beatrice Totty, Stella Thomas, Lucy Reeter, Jane Holt, Rebecca Babcock, Edna Gregory, Sara Irving and Lucy Perdue.

Coaches Bragg and Brown predict a winning season for both the boys and girls, and are bidding for big attendance at the games.

Pipeline Corp. Becomes Big Taxpayer

After an informative address on the development of the natural gas industry, Ralph R. Newton, Jr., of the tax department of Transcontinental Gas Pipeline Corp., Houston, Texas, presented a check in payment of the corporation's taxes, at the meeting of the local Lions Club last Thursday night. The check was accepted by J. A. Burke, Superintendent of schools, in the absence of county treasurer R. L. Burke. The tax payment was $23,875.08, and made Transcontinental the largest taxpayer in Appomattox County.

Mr. Newton was introduced by Otis P. Dewberry, Superintendent of Transcontinental's Compresser Station No. 17, here.

Mr. Newton declared that natural gas had been in use in varying projects since 2,000 B. C. The ancient Chinese moved it through pipes. "Burning springs" were observed in the early history of the United States. In recent decades a network of welded pipelines have criss-crossed the nation. The "Big Inch" line was built in 1931, and the line extending over 17.7 miles in Appomatox County is a section of a line running from Texas to New York. The compresser station here is No. 17 along the line.

Mr. Newton expressed the belief that additional pipelines will be built and that gas reserves are adequate for anticipated requirements.

In accepted the tax check, Mr. Burke stated that it was "some kind fate" that located the gas line and compresser in Appomattox, for the local need for gas, tax income was one of the most serious problems facing the county. A new taxpayer of this size was a boost to the meeting of school building demands, and enabled the county to "make a start." He cited figures to show the high percentage of local tax loads being carried by utilities and big corporations, amounting to a third of county tax receipts.

Transcontinental has become a great asset to Appomattox, not only for its tax payments, but for its big local payroll, and general spirit of friendly interest in local affairs.

FARM BUREAU MEETING

The regular meeting of the Appomattox Farm Bureau will be held at the Court House at 7:30 P. M., Thursday evening, December 13. W. J. Nuckols, Jr., Associate Extension Agricultural Economist, will discuss Income Taxes as they affect the farmer. James W. Dinwiddie, head of the Social Security Office in Lynchburg will explain the new Social Security program and how it affects the farmer and farm workers.

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting. Questions will be invited and this will be an opportunity for farmers and their families to secure information on these matters.

Garden Club Ask Religious Decorations

The Appomattox Garden Club is urging that, wherever possible, decorations of a religious nature, such as nativity scenes, Angels, Stars, Shepherds and Wisemen be used with the usual evergreens to emphasize the religious significance of the Christmas season. It is suggested that as a "Peace City," Appomattox might take a lead in this section in observing the birthday of the "Prince of Peace" with appropriate decorations.

The Garden Club will again secure judges to appraise the local decorations, and prize winners will be announced. An experienced window decorator will judge business concerns on December 17. Oth r judges will judge homes on December 24.

Those living out of the town of Appomattox who would like to have the judges view their homes or their stores, should telephone Miss Beulah Ferrell or Mrs. T. M. Richardson.
